Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species of the claimed invention:

1/ figs. 1-3,7-8

2/ fig. 5

3/ fig. 9

4/ figs. 10-12

5/ figs. 12-13

6/ figs. 14-15

7/ fig. 16

8/ fig. 17

9/ fig. 19

10/ fig. 20

11/ fig. 21

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Art Unit: 3763

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which are written in dependent form or otherwise include all the limitations of an allowed generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) of the other invention.

During a telephone conversation with Allen Fanucci on 01/16/04 a provisional election was made without traverse to prosecute the invention of species 11 (figure 21), claims 1-5,16-18. Affirmation of this election must be made by applicant in replying to this Office action. Claims 6-15 have been withdrawn from further consideration by the examiner, 37 CFR 1.142(b), as being drawn to a non-elected invention.

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

An action on the merits now follows.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(e) the invention was described in a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent, or on an international application by another who has fulfilled the requirements of paragraphs (1), (2), and (4) of section 371(c) of this title before the invention thereof by the applicant for patent.

The changes made to 35 U.S.C. 102(e) by the American Inventors Protection Act of 1999 (AIPA) and the Intellectual Property and High Technology Technical Amendments Act of 2002 do not apply when the reference is a U.S. patent resulting directly or indirectly from an international application filed before November 29, 2000. Therefore, the prior art date of the reference is determined under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) prior to the amendment by the AIPA (pre-AIPA 35 U.S.C. 102(e)).

Claims 1-5, 16-17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Lilley et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5599,302).

Lilley et al. disclose an injection dev. Comprising a housing, a nozzle assembly, a plunger, a trigger assembly an energy generating source and a fixed injection assisting probe comprising a body having a discharged channel and a orifice at the distal end. Lilley et al. teach the orifice having a diameter of about 0.07-0.4 mm which is encompassed by 0.004 to 0.012 inches. Looking at 1-6 and specifically figures 10-11, the length of the discharge channel is at least 0.024 inches and thus the length to orifice ratio is inherently greater than 6/1 or greater than 9-1 ratio.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

Art Unit: 3763

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claim 18 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Lilley et al. (U.S. Patent No. 5,599,302).

See Lilley et al. above. However, Lilley et al. does not disclose the ratio between 9/1 and 20/1. Varying the length of the discharge channel would have been a mere design choice to one of ordinary skill in the art. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to modify the length as claimed as a mere design choice lacking any criticality of size as being merely preferable for the intended target (ear) area depending on the size of the ear of the patient where the only difference between the prior art and the claims was a recitation of relative dimensions of the claimed device and a device having the claimed relative dimensions would not perform differently than the prior art device, the claimed device was not patentably distinct from the prior art. Further as evidenced by Masano, the teaching of the ratio of the length to the diameter is varied in order to provide for delivery of different viscosity of materials.

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225

Art Unit: 3763

USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 1-5, 16-18 are rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1, 5-7 of U.S. Patent No. 6,309,371. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because application claims are a broader recitation of the invention than that of the issued patent, including all of the same limitations. The claims of the application claim a an injection device having a housing , a nozzle assembly , a plunger, a trigger assembly , an energy generating source a probe having a discharge channel and an orifice with diameters and lengths associated therewith. The patent claims recite a an injection device having a housing , a nozzle assembly , a trigger assembly , a plunger, an energy generating source and a probe tip with a discharge channel , a probe tip , a plunger receptor, a retraction element and a probe with a discharge channel with diameters and lengths associated therewith. Since a broad interpretation of an injection assisting probe includes a fixed injection probe, if a patent was to grant on the pending claims of this application applicant would be granted an unlawful extension of protection beyond the years of the 6,309,371 patent.
